INCREASE MOTIVATION, POSITIVITY & ENERGY IN YOUR WORKPLACE

Leadership Lessons From Lasso

Most of us have seen or at least heard of the hit television series Ted Lasso and will have enjoyed the highs and lows entailed in coaching a soccer team to success in the English soccer league, but even if you haven't, we've distilled in this workshop the Leadership lessons to be garnered from the show.

In this interactive workshop we will present four leadership lessons we can take from Ted Lasso and discuss the theoretical underpinnings of these from the research of organisational psychologists, neuropsychologists and management experts. Far from just being feel-good fiction, there are solid reasons why Ted Lasso's leadership gets results.

The four powerful leadership lessons to be explored in this session are:

- Bring vulnerability
- Believe
- Adopt a growth mindset
- Use humour

We will provide you the opportunity to understand why these leadership behaviours work and give you time to think about how you may develop them in yourself and others to increase levels of motivation, positivity and energy in your workplace. Anyone interested in improving their own leadership or helping others to improve theirs should attend!
